IN MEMORIAM

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning
of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness
of farewell,
When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne
of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have cross'd the bar.

Principal's Message

The chimes of June, 1932 are ringing and Roosevelt High School closes her portals leaving behind her a joyously happy, successful year.

The wheels of civilization are traveling over the highway of progress. Passing side by side with this progress has been Roosevelt High School.

We have reached another milestone in our history. Our past year crowns Roosevelt with the finest of co-operation, with the best of loyalty to duty and respect. Through a constant effort she has been lifted to a place high in realms of service, and to a type of sportsmanship and fair play that is extraordinary.

This beautiful school annual is certainly deserving of a warm place in your heart and plays a most important role in Roosevelt's cast of activities.

May I express my hearty appreciation for the excellent piece of work done by our Chroniclers in bringing to us this treasure of memories of our activities during the year just passed.

May your vacation be a most happy one and when our doors open again this fall, Roosevelt's welcoming atmosphere will await you.

History of

The Class of '32

Motto: "On Life's Unresting Sea We Now Embark."

To the class of 1932 comes the climax of three years of struggles and aspirations—graduation! Looking backward we find we have forgotten the hardships, and remember only the many happy hours we have spent together. Reminiscences of the past bring forth many delightful memories, and make us feel that we can be justly proud of our achievements.

One memorable day in October, 1929, while we were mere sophomores, we felt the "urge" to take a prominent part in school activities; we were bubbling over with ideas and enthusiasm. Our first step was to organize. Our ardor, however, was momentarily quenched by Mr. Otto's ultimatum that we must prove ourselves worthy of the responsibility before organizing as the class of '32. We set our brains to work to think of some project we might sponsor. Finally, we decided to accept the challenge by sponsoring the athletic dances for the spring semester of 1930. From then on much of our time was devoted to making a success of these dances. The two big dances, "May Days, Play Days" and "April Showers Bring May Flowers" were joyous affairs, and well repaid us for our efforts.

In our junior year, the athletic dances gave way to senior high dances. At the request of the administration, we, the Juniors, took over the task of sponsoring these dances, in order to bring about a closer fellowship among the students of the Senior High. Five dances filled our year, and then as a culmination of our social program, we gave a dance in honor of our first June graduation class.

Although the dances, our service to the school, demanded so much of our time, hardly any school organization or activity could be found which did not include the names of many members of our class on its roll. We were an up-and-coming bunch!

At last our senior year—when dreams come true! The Senior Prom, teas, dances, and then—February graduation! This event took from us forty-seven of our members. Ties were broken, and two and one-half years of happy companionship came to an end. Time, however, flies quickly, and the rest of us, almost before we know it, will have passed the same mile-stone in June.

But before we write "finis" to the chronicles, the class of '32 cannot help pausing to exult a little over its originality—a Sunrise Baccalaureate and a clever Senior Souvenir Bulletin. On Commencement night, we, the fifth graduating class, will sing Roosevelt's first Alma Mater which was composed through our tireless efforts. We hope this will grow in the love of the students in the years to come.

This history would be incomplete without some mention of the inspiration and guiding companionship of our sponsors, Miss Scott, Mrs. Sullivan, Miss Powelson, Mrs. Morrison, Miss Bartlett, and Mr. Franklin. The class owes much to their kindly interest and encouragement.

For the glories of our Alma Mater and for "Ye Olde School Spirit," many busy but happy hours have been spent by the class, its officers, and sponsors. Because of such ideal contacts, we hope to be, as a class, a little better, and as individuals, a little finer. If we have accomplished this, our aim has been fulfilled; if we have accomplished our aim, we are content.

Vacation over! A sound of the gong and Roosevelt's Student Body of some thirteen hundred trekked back to the ranks. The hurried bustling of the students and an atmosphere filled with activities have become a daily occurrence with us.

Our athletic teams gained losses and sustained victories on the gridiron, court, track and diamond. We are certainly proud of the fine sportsmanship displayed by our boys. Glad, are we, too, that a leveled field, turf, curbed track, and other improvements will be waiting to greet our athletes when they report for duty this coming school term. Thanks to our Student Body!

Our year has certainly been crowned with well-spirited co-operation between the school and the P. T. A. How we helped them put over the Turkey Dinner and the big Carnival Dance! They were both grand successes!

The Student Body deserves also a lot of thanks in working with the Music Department of our school. We bought over six hundred dollars worth of instruments for rental purposes.

Then, our big inter-class Track Meet—thrills, noise, music, gasping moments, flying colors were all there in a big way! The Seniors walked home with the banner and the Juniors cleaned the fish pond—what a day!

1931-32 marks another milestone for Roosevelt, and the names of Roy Clemens and Bill Hall march into the Hall of Fame, carrying with them emblems representing the finest of leadership as our Student Body Presidents.

Well, our space is filled, but long shall we remember the gay days filled with athletic school contests, school plays, turkey dinners, carnivals, and school dances, we have enjoyed during this past term.

School is a sad, gloomy, and humdrum affair if one chooses to walk only in the shadows, but it is grand and glorious if one looks on the bright side of things. This, the Scribe tells us, is the opinion of the Junior Class. For the benefit of those students, commonly known as the "Freshies," and also for a group of uncivilized barbarians called "Seniors," (this term is used not because of merits earned, but because of the generosity of the teachers!), we wish to point out the great importance and significance of the Junior Class.

If Fate is kind, the members of said organization hope to graduate in 1933. However, before this tragic day arrives, many events will have taken place which will leave within every student a feeling of fond remembrance for the illustrious Juniors.

During the past year, the Junior Class has had the pleasure of sponsoring for the Student Body, three most delightful dances. The most successful of these was the "Chinese Garden Ballet." Several novelty dances were offered and unique prizes awarded, with John Militano acting as Master of Ceremonies. The success of this dance, we modestly admit, was due to the well-organized work of the class members.

In the inter-class track meet, held in March, the Juniors came in a close second (only a trivial difference of forty points!) Due to certain reasons, such as bribing the timers, (?) "apple polishing," (?) and the like, the Seniors placed first. True to their ideals of sportsmanship, the Juniors cheerfully paid the penalty of the defeated by cleaning the fish-pond.

When the Senior Play, "The Patsy" was presented, it was the Juniors who boosted the ticket sales to insure its success. "But there's a reason!" Our Prom and our graduation expenses for next year depended upon the profits thus derived!

Now for the calendar of social affairs,
Of course we'll begin with September.
For then it was that the Girls' League met
To welcome all new Low 10 members.

In October the Boys' Federation was thrilled—
And honored by a Hallowe'en ball,
Oh, did those girls work and did they plan!
Of course, there was fun for all.

November was featured in the city of Turlock
The Valley Girls' League Convention,
Jeanada Hamilton and Evelyn Manderville
Were the "Roosevelt representation."

In November again, big boxes were filled
To help the needy of the district,
And were those boxes packed sky high!
Yes, sir! for the Girls' League sponsored it.

"Roosevelt students, forget not your bundles"
Was constantly heard in December,
With the Girls' League sponsoring this affair,
You can just bet your boots they remembered!

In April was held the Student Conference
The Girls' League sponsored the Luncheon,
In April also, was a lovely tea
Given by the girls for their mothers.

The Senior girls were honored at a tea
By lower classmen, in May,
'Twas lovely, and a good time was had by all—
Girls' League of Roosevelt High—H'RAY!

"TRUE (?) CONFESSION"

Ah! my dear readers, no one realizes better than I the effort that you have so valiantly put forth with the hope that somewhere within this manuscript you would find something of vast importance. At last your wish has been fulfilled! Cast your eyes upon the memoirs of the Boys' Federation!

This said organization is upheld by a very distinguished group—the Senior High boys. The members so far, have been very fortunate in regard to the type of entertainment presented. During the past year the Federation has enjoyed two style shows, given through the courtesy of Harry Coffee to show what the well dressed man will wear. This accounts for the immaculate appearance of our members (dirty cords and no ties, for instance!)

In the early part of March an event took place which will long be remembered—The Boys' Federation Dance, given in honor of our girl friends of the Girls' League.

The auditorium was decorated in true spring fashion so as to satisfy that strange feeling that overcomes one during that season of the year. The committees in charge modestly admitted that it was one of the most outstanding social events of the year.

Not long afterwards the Federation was invited by the Girls' League to participate in a joint meeting. The speaker of the day being Miss Mary Yost, dean of women of Stanford University, of course our presence added greatly to the prestige of the meeting as it always has and always will, forever and forever.

I thank you!

OAKLEY HUNTER.

P. S.: I wish to state that this confession was forced from me through the famous third degree of the Nautilus Staff.

Membership in the Scholarship Society is an honor depending upon a high type of school work during the previous semester. A's give three points and B's one, toward the ten points necessary for membership. Two of these may be gained from extra-curricular activities such as athletics, dramatics, and debating. Those pupils who have earned membership for four semesters, one of which must be in the Senior year, become life members of the California Scholarship Federation. Those attaining life membership are given pins by the Student Body. They are also presented with a certificate, on graduation. The Chapter seal is placed on their diplomas and they are given college recommendations. A scholarship for college may also be earned.

The activities of our organization have been varied but much of the time has been spent on conferences. The Twentieth District meeting was held here in November with a Reedley student acting as president, and Viola Toler as secretary. The business meeting and discussions of the morning were followed by a luncheon and program. In the afternoon a dance was featured.

In March the District Meeting was held at Kerman with Jim Shipe as president. The delegates were impressed by the activities and privileges of the other chapters.

The next important event, possibly the most important to all who attended, was the conference of the Central Section held in Santa Cruz on April ninth. Our delegates were entertained at the summer home of Geraldine Rodgers and reported an enjoyable, as well as a profitable, trip.

Really, the members of the Library Club should have an extra credit or so! Why? They began school two days before the rest of the school did! How's that? Oh, when the teachers met for the first time the Friday before school opened, some of the girls and their sponsor served tea to the teachers. The library had been moved into new quarters so it was in the nature of a house-warming. The new books, which had been received and catalogued during the summer were out on display, and you should have heard those teachers rave about them! It is hoped to make this faculty tea or open house an annual affair.

The club has been very active this year. Its members have undertaken a project not found in any other high school in Fresno county. They have been responsible for the pay collection of books which has been added to the library. This collection now contains about thirty volumes of late fiction suitable for use in the English classes for their outside reading.

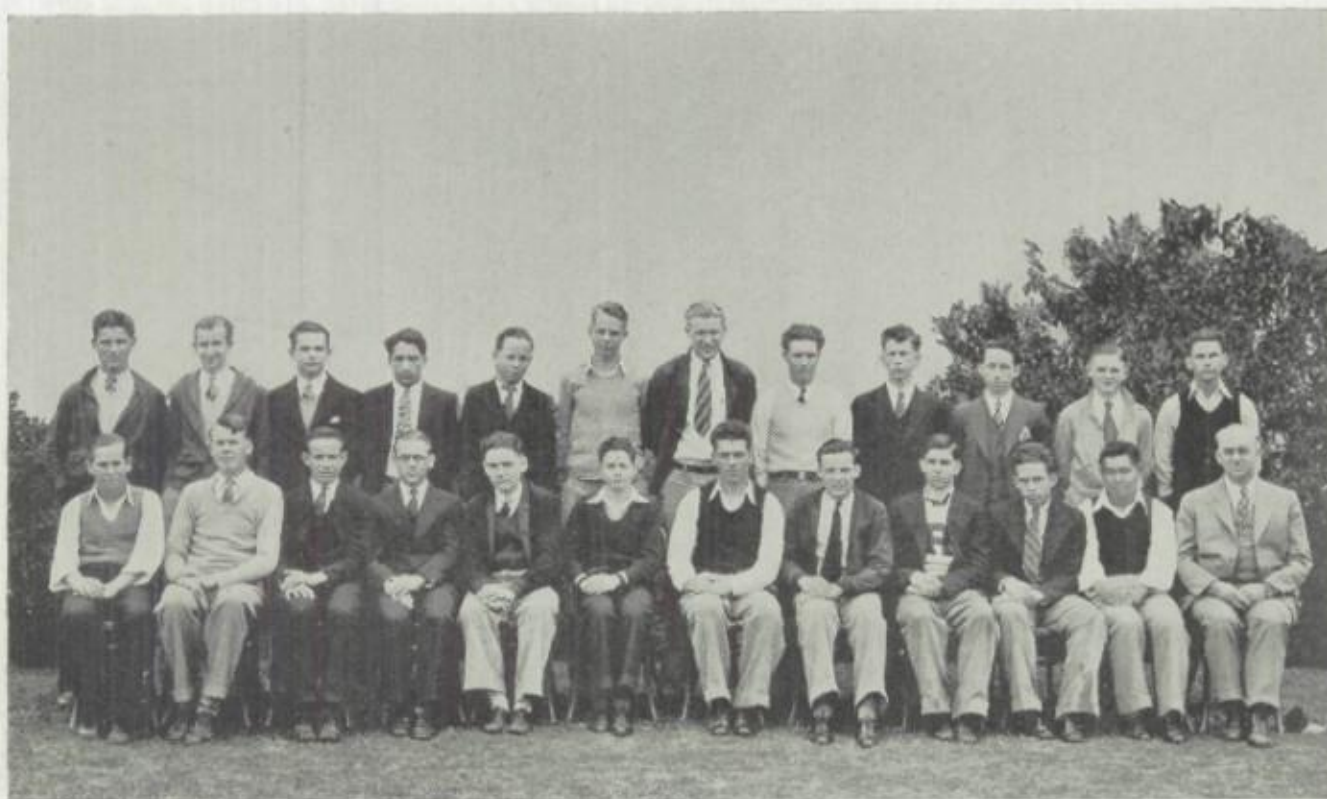

Meetings are held regularly every other Monday in the library. At one of the meetings Miss Marsh gave the club a real inspiration in her talk on "What Constitutes a Successful Club." At the meeting held during Children's Book Week, Miss Doris Gates of the County Library, spoke on "Good Books for Young People." At the close of this meeting refreshments were served by the committee of social affairs.

In December the club put on a program for one of the regular assemblies.

Pins of black and white enamel, the club colors, are now being worn by the members.

The Witenagemote Club, which meets every other Tuesday evening (the Constitution providing for special meetings when necessary), is one of the oldest organizations in the school. It was first organized in March, 1930, through the efforts of a group of boys headed by LeRoy Wood. Since then it has grown in size and fame. There are now twenty-five active members, carefully chosen from among that type of student interested in leadership. Witenagemote, "Council of Wise Men," is a parliamentary law organization. Its purpose is to instruct the members in the principles of parliamentary law, and to train them to conduct properly any student organization. Discussions on world-wide topics are held during the meetings. Mr. Otto is the instructor of parliamentary law, and thirty minutes of each meeting is devoted to its study and practice. An efficient program committee has always insured a pleasing and interesting program.

A pot luck supper at the last meeting, in honor of the club's second anniversary, brought to a close a most successful year for Witenagemote. Among the honored guests present were the Witenagemote Alumni.

The club, being inactive the first semester, accounts for the first semester's limited activities.

The Girls of the Parliamentary Law Club chose the name "Boadicea" for its organization, because of the womanly and queenly deeds of the ancient queen of Britain, who bore this proud name. She was a great leader of her people.

The object of the club is to be joyous, interested, well poised individuals, well-versed in many subjects perhaps—but certainly courageous, open minded, resourceful with some initiative and fair judgment, socially minded and able to work with others.

Every one present at the meetings answers roll call with a quotation from a famous California author. The girls have had training in parliamentary law, and every member is given a chance to be chairman of the meeting for parliamentary practice. This establishes in the minds of the younger people the standards by which they are governed.

The Parliamentary Law Club is dedicated, primarily to the study and application of parliamentary law and procedure, and, secondly, is designed as a forum for expression of views and opinions, pertaining to topics of interest. Through this practice they are able to conduct with efficiency the offices to which they are elected in the school.

Rising to a point of order, a point of personal privilege, moving to resolve into a committee of the whole, suffering through the trials and tribulations of the amendment to the amendment, occupies the practice time of these meetings. Sometimes real policies and programs fill the discussion time, and offer opportunities for parliamentary contests. Sometimes mock motions are placed before the body to be jumped on and pulled far out of their original meanings, as the embryo lady-legislators under their judicial chairmen try their intellectual prowess, and still remain "within the law."

After a successful year, this club hopes to have done its "bit" in establishing an interest in parliamentary law. The members hope to attract more Sophomore and Junior girls so that the club may help to train the League and Class Officers.

"There is a motion before the house!"

The Excalibur Club, which is the Junior Organization of the Fresno Knights of the Round Table, and Roosevelt's only boys' luncheon club, meets every Tuesday at high noon in the Assembly Hall. Under the very capable supervision of Mr. Otto and Mr. Slaughter they gorge themselves on Cafeteria dainties and discuss important issues. After the appetites of the respective members have been satisfied, a short business session is held, followed by a program, usually consisting of talks by various members.

Primarily the aim of the club is "Service," and to that end they have undertaken several projects. At Christmas time the club co-operated with the Knights of the Round Table in supplying wood to needy families of our city. Members of the club served as ushers for "Nothing but the Truth," and "The Patsy."

The club volunteered cars to help with the transportation to the Washington Bi-Centennial Pageant held at the Fresno High School Auditorium. They also offered their services to help bathe the china-ware after the Student Conference banquet, but in view of their tender (?) care of the dishes at last year's Girls' Day, it was decided that such services would not be required! However, the Club did act as a reception committee on that occasion.

The crowning success of the year was the Excalibur Dance held Thursday evening, March third. The guests were members of the Senior Girls' Luncheon Club and their escorts; members of the Round Table and their wives; and alumni members of Excalibur. The auditorium was decorated as a Spring garden, and music was furnished by the Roosevelt Jazz Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Walsh. Mr. Slaughter served as master of ceremonies.

So you see, the club is not just a nutritional class, but an organization really concerned with the betterment of the school!

"I don't know whether I'd care to be sophisticated or not after reading the dictionary. It defines sophistication as the state of simplicity, or naturalness; I'd rather be just me."

"Oh, Florence, it really isn't as bad as that! I've met a few sophisticated persons in my life, and they were really very charming."

What is it? Simply the Senior Girls' Luncheon Club at one of the weekly meetings!

This club originated from the 1931 Student Conference. Miss Marsh and Jeanada Hamilton worked on the plan and finally summoned fourteen girls whom they thought would be interested. The members now number twenty-five, a most congenial group.

The club meets every Wednesday during the lunch hour with their sponsor, Miss Marsh. The meetings are called to order by the president, and then turned over to a chairman who takes charge of the program. A few people are assigned certain phases of the subject to be considered, and then the whole club takes part in a general discussion.

Some of the subjects that have been under discussion during the past year are: Cosmetics and Its Uses; The Ideal Companion for Life; Sophistication; Culture; Proper Dress on All Occasions; Books; Sororities in High School and College; Private Schools. Outside speakers were secured on two occasions.

Dean Mary Yost from Stanford was a guest of the Luncheon Club in March. She recited several instances of college life, and told the girls what they might expect on entering college.

The club first started with girls from several grades and met during different school periods. It was decided that the Club should be turned into a Luncheon Club and membership be limited to Senior girls.

The sides of the triangle of the Girl Reserves stand for Spirit, Body, and Mind. Every true Girl Reserve uses the blue triangle to picture the right way of living.

The weekly meetings of the Senior High Girl Reserves have been intensely interesting this year.

In a series of service meetings scrap-books were made to send to the County Hospital.

The two initiations are important events on the Girl Reserves' calendar. The informal initiation in the afternoon, is followed by a delicious dinner and a candle-lighting service in the evening.

At the annual mid-winter conference held in Porterville, one of the five delegates, Loraine Large, was elected president of all San Joaquin Valley Girl Reserves.

The Sesame Girl Reserves has twenty-six members from the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades.

The Service work this year has been to serve others less fortunate than themselves. At Christmas time the club prepared and sent a big box to a family in the country. They also gave appropriate gifts to the children at the Nutritional Home, Valentine's Day and at Easter.

The club also has many social activities. The girls often swim and have pot-luck suppers at the Y. W. C. A.

Each year in May a joint Father and Daughter banquet is given by all the Girl Reserve Clubs in the city. Songs, pep, yells, and good food help make it a successful event.

These girls are ever ready to assist when needed.

September 14, there's the bell! The portals to our Alma Mater open and Troop 15 is ready to go! Hello, new Scoutmaster, but we do miss you, Steve Walker!

Plans for our troop home were finally completed. Week ends found the men at North Fork in the early morn felling trees. Bill Otto can certainly swing an axe, and how Hugh Dunn can ride trees out of mid-air to earth! Then snow fell!

Oh, boy! that over-night hike to Fort Millerton! A river full of water, countless rocks, a big council fire, some nifty entertainment, lots of eats! Where that man, Doug Hubbard, stores all his food, is a mystery!

As Christmas was approaching, several baskets of food were solicited and distributed to needy families. Lee Sawyer was chief organizer and executive.

That memorable date, February 12th, soon rolled around bringing the celebration of the twenty-second anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. Entertainment, eats, and good fellowship were in abundance. Just ask Johnny Otto how well his Mom can make Spanish beans! Thank you, Mothers and Dads, for your splendid co-operation!

Here's Spring and the big test-passing season is on! Thirty-five tests were passed in one week—congratulations, fellows! Paris Thomas, Bill Otto, and Adellon Hanson set a fast pace for some of the younger fellows.

Hauling the logs to Fresno for our log cabin, digging the cellar, laying the foundation and putting up the building certainly kept the fellows on the jump!

The end of another year comes over the hill and the fellows of Troop 15 are grateful for the splendid season enjoyed. We'll be back again this fall—stronger than ever and ready to do our best for Roosevelt!

Troop 17 has grown considerably since September, 1931—in ambition and progress, as well as in numbers.

The troop firmly believes that only a test-passing group of Scouts are really Scouts. As a result the Patrols have begun to take test-hikes, while the entire troop has hiked to Fresno Beach when the weather permitted. The almost weekly hikes of this troop into the mountains last fall came nearly being a council-wide record.

Outdoor campfire meetings seem to be a favorite on regular meeting nights, being occasions for developing the "out" in ScOUTing as well as the organized play period.

The chief project in which Troop 17 Scouts are engaged is the construction of a log cabin on the Roosevelt school grounds. The logs were felled on the Cascade Ranch road above Northfork in Sierra National Forest. Hauling rough logs to Fresno and converting them into a cabin is no small task, but it is a decidedly worthwhile one. The P. T. A. sponsors this particular troop. In token of appreciation, the Scouts are only too glad to serve as cloak and hat checkers, and as telephone messengers at various P. T. A. events.

The activities of our P. T. A. have been varied, profitable, and interesting.

Many worthy people have received assistance through the "Student Aid Committee." Health of mind and body has been fostered by providing clothing and food to those in need. These benefits have gone even beyond the school district.

The "Safety Committee" has been active for the protection and care of children.

The financial problem has been met with enthusiasm for the goal of $500 was actually reached. One event of the year that netted finance and a good time was the "Turkey Dinner," sponsored by the "Ways and Means Committee." Over six hun-

In March the P. T. A. held a carnival in the Roosevelt school. Concessions galore kept everybody busy and left everyone "broke." Sadly we must relate that Mr. Slaughter "shocked" everyone with whom he came in contact!

The "Entertainment Committee" has provided a program that has been educational and interesting. Among the speakers presented were Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Miss Mary Yost, Dean of Women at Stanford University. Refreshments have been served by the "Committee on Refreshments" at all meetings. Did you ever taste better coffee than Joe Dale makes?

The regular meetings have reflected the spirit of co-operation and interest by excellent attendance and a fine social spirit. The membership has increased forty-two per cent. You see this is a real Parent-Teacher Association, not a Mother-Teacher Association. We are proud, and justly so, of our fine business men, who are giving of their time and talent to further this worthy cause.

The Advanced Orchestra had such a large enrollment last year that it was made into two divisions—the Advanced with forty-nine members and the Junior High with fifty-four. It is now playing quite advanced and selected music. With Mr. Wacaser as leader, it has prepared many musical programs for school activities and for outside performances. “There’s nothing like tootin’ your own horn.”

JUNIOR HIGH BAND

The Junior High Band, under the direction of Mr. Wacaser, needs no words to describe its merit. It is probably the largest Junior High Band in the valley and is the coming Roosevelt High School Band. It has participated in a number of school functions. “Just wait till they grow up.”

During the fall semester they were under the direction of Lenel Shuck, and in the spring, Clarence Heagy, cadets from Fresno State. They played for student rallies, the February "32" Senior Day Assembly, Community Chest Drive Banquet, the Roosevelt Revue, and the inter-class Track and Field Meet.

"And they played to beat the band!"

Dear Dot:

Doesn't it make you sad when you think of our leaving the Glee Club, after having been with them for four years? We two are the only ones who can ever be members that length of time. Remember "Miss Cherry Blossom" and the time we won the banner? All those good times we've had together, the friends we've made, and the songs we've sung. We'll never forget them, shall we?

And that pot-luck supper at Mrs. Bramblett's house, just this year! What a load of good things to eat! Now that we have elected a Commissioner of Social Affairs there will be all sorts of good times.

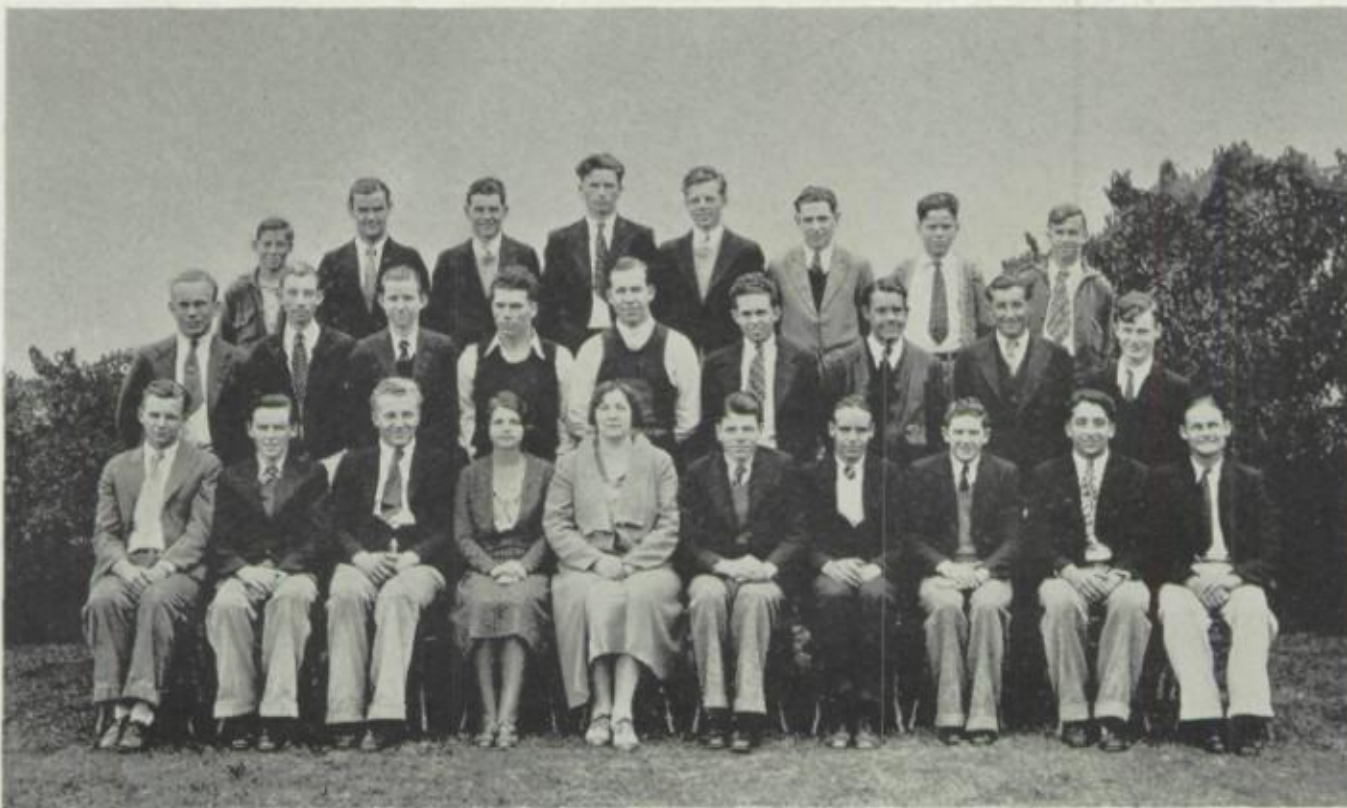

I always enjoyed those wonderful May Festivals at Roeding Park, didn't you, when the Glee Clubs from several schools sang together? They have become an annual affair. We practiced for weeks for these occasions and they were always such a success. Another annual event in which we feature is the Christmas Pageant. This year we were well represented in the Washington Pageant and the Roosevelt Revue. We sang again for the Kiwanis this spring. Fun, wasn't it?

And, oh, those new uniforms! Aren't they lovely? Those chic little green jackets are just the thing! With their white shoes and pretty dresses the girls make the sweetest picture! I'm glad we could help decide the all-important uniforms, even if we don't get a chance to wear them, aren't you? The eternal feminine!

Let's hope the new girls who take our places will enjoy the Glee Club as much as we have.

In October the Boys' Glee Club assisted in a program at the first assembly of the semester. A double quartet consisting of Clinton Seals, Lee Clark, Enoch Lauderdale, Harold Wilson, Jack Walton, John Van Valkenburgh, John Lammerts, and Ernest Jorgensen sang "Lullaby Moon." "Close Harmony" was then sung by the whole Glee Club. The program was finished with the song "Pale Moon" sung by both the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs.

In the Christmas Pageant they sang two songs: "The Evensong" and "Nazareth." "The Holy City" was sung by the Boys' and Girls' Glee combined.

At an evening P. T. A. program in January at which Vierling Kersey was the speaker, the boys furnished the program. Allan Ross sang three cowboy songs, "Yavapai Pete," "Strawberry Roan," and "Cowboy Jack." A double quartet sang "Close Your Eyes," and the whole Glee Club finished the program with the songs, "Pale Moon," and "Lullaby Moon."

At the Washington Pageant a quartet consisting of Clinton Seals, Lee Clark, John Van Valkenburgh, and Horace Ballow, with six girls of the Girls' Glee Club, sang "Golden Slippers," and "Go Down, Moses." Clinton Seals gave a tap dance. The part of George Washington was taken by Ernest Jorgensen.

At the May Festival in Roeding Park the Club sang in a combined male chorus consisting of all the Boys' Glee Clubs of the county. Three songs were sung, "I Got Shoes," "Neapolitan Nights," and "I Love You, California."

Dramatics Club

Each year Mr. Hyde chooses, from the seniors who have passed the English Composition test, a limited number of students to compose his Dramatics class. The class studies dramatics appreciation as well as drama in practice.

One of the class projects was to collect and learn poems appropriate for grades from one to twelve. Some of these poems were given for outside engagements, the P. T. A. carnival and the Scholarship Federation meeting.

The greatest stunt of the year in which everyone in the class enthusiastically participated was the ice cream "feed." Five gallons of ice cream and seven cakes did a "vanishing act."

In April a play contest was held. Nearly every member of the class was cast in one of the four one-act comedies, under student direction. The play judged as the best was given for outside engagements. The plays and casts included:

The Stagecraft class is an organized group of twenty-eight students, seventeen boys and eleven girls, who, under the able leadership of their officers and sponsor, work hand in hand with the dramatic people in making all productions the success of which our school has a right to be proud.

This year has been a very busy one with stages to do every month for the following plays: Three One Act Plays in October, "Roosevelt Revue" in November, "Christmas Pageant" in December, All-School Play in January, "Washington Pageant" in February and Senior Play in March.

Would you like a glimpse of a Stagecraft class? The play to be staged is read to the class: the stage is planned; the students are divided into groups, each having a special part for its responsibility. The girls do most of the designing and painting; the boys, the building and construction work; then we all work together on setting up stages. This gives us a feeling for color and the balance of furniture and other objects on the stage. We learn, too, how different lights change colors, and which ones give certain effects, as, for example, the ghastly grey green, which was used for the prison atmosphere in "The Valiant."

Stagecraft is made up mostly of Seniors, with a few Juniors to carry on in the next year's work. We were handicapped this last fall by lack of experienced people.

Stagecraft is one of the most popular courses in the school. We may appear to be wandering around the halls as privileged characters. Not so, by any means, for we are "on our own" only so long as we are trustworthy. True is the old saying "You get out of a project, just what you put in it."

"But what about the false fronts you put up!"

Review of Revues

(With apology to "Review of Reviews")

The year 1931 closed the third annual presentation of the "Revue," an all-school production which has developed from a rather mediocre program of stunts by Home Room groups in 1929 to a gloriously finished "Revue of Songs" in 1931.

The 1929 Revue blazed the trail for the success of future years.

The 1930 Revue owes much to the clever way in which Mrs. Sullivan adapted an Irish Fantasy, Skaters, and Cake Walkers to the general theme based on the old legend of the Pied Piper of Hamelin.

Without doubt the crowning achievement came in 1931 with a cast of one hundred sixty-two players who gave to their delighted audiences seven clever and original acts. Juanita Davis and Ted Garrison appeared before each stunt in quaint costume of Jack and Jill, singing little choruses of acts to follow.

Color, comedy and song were cleverly woven into a fantastic Circus Act pictured above, featuring clowns old and modern, tumbling and dancing to earn their applause. There were Raggedy Anne and Sandy Andy; Bashful Dan and Giggling Anne; and dainty Pierrette, high on a trapeze, with her Pierrot, Jack Morgan, singing to her the lovely theme song "Wrap Your Troubles in Dreams."

Other prominent acts were "Walking My Baby Back Home" and "Whistling in the Dark," featuring the Glee Clubs in romantic lights and shadows.

The "Darkies" who appeared in a minor act of 1929 Revue, and in the well-known "cake-walk" of 1930, brought such favor in 1931 that their act was used as the nucleus of the George Washington Bi-Centennial Pageant, February 22, 1932.

The "Ensemble" with its gorgeous costumes and colorful settings will linger long in our memories.

"Adios—Revue!"

"Nothing But The Truth"

ALL SCHOOL PLAY

A grand cast, an able director and a delightfully humorous plot made James Montgomery's play "Nothing But the Truth" "the most talked of play in town."

The play was directed by Mr. Hyde, and the cast runs as follows: Bob Bennett, Bill Hall; E. M. Ralston, Mel Starkel; Dick Donnelly, Bob Segress; Clarence Van Dusen, Lee Clark; Bishop Doran, Bill Otto; Gwendolyn Ralston, Lucile Fleming; Mrs. E. M. Ralston, Melba Painter; Ethel Clark, Edith Hurd; Mabel Jackson, Edna Monck; Sabel Jackson, Lois Lindley; and Martha, Fern McPherson, who also acted as prompter.

Bill Hall was obliged to double ten thousand dollars for his fiancée, Lucile Fleming. To do this, he bet his business associates, Bob Segress, Mel Starkel, and Lee Clark ten thousand dollars he could tell "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth" for twenty-four hours. And then the trouble began! Embarrassing situations galore almost convinced Bill that "little white lies" weren't so monstrous, after all.

Two snappily dressed chorus girls, played by Edna Monck and Lois Lindley, who couldn't under any condition be described as slow, caused trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Ralston, namely, Mel Starkel and Melba Painter.

Bishop Doran, played by Bill Otto, calculating financier, hiding under the cloak of ignorance of business, was a "scream" in more ways than one! Dumb? He wasn't so dumb! He got his seven hundred dollars!

"All's well that ends well," and Bob Bennett won his bet, thereby doubling Gwendolyn Roberts' money. Mr. and Mrs. Ralston finally got over their misunderstanding and they "all lived happily ever after." After all, that's a nice way to live, isn't it?

"If you think it's easy, try it!"

Christmas Pageant

This year as the Christmas tide drew near, over fifty Roosevelt students participated in Van Dyke's superb dramatization of his story, The Other Wise Man. The Pageant Committee composed of Mr. Walsh as chairman, Mrs. Turner, Mr. Young, and Mr. Otto as ex-officio member, chose Van Dyke's play because of its colorful pageantry and glorious teaching. Artaban, The Other Wise Man, was played by Stuart McKelvey; the four readers were Ethel Scofield, Mildred McLaughlin, Eleanor Caldwell, and Evelyn Manderville. The other speaking parts were portrayed by Jack Walton, John Gomas, Oakley Hunter, Ed Stern, Boyd Beard, Milton Chatalbash, John Otto, John Militano, Grace Roberts, and Edith Page. It was directed by Miss Bernice Struthers.

This play is beautiful in the thought which it brings before us—the idea that God cannot be purchased for jewels, money, or extravagant gifts but that He comes to us, only through the deeds we do, the thoughts we have and the love we hold for Him. Never will those words of the old and bent Artaban be erased from our memory. Never shall we forget the white-haired figure kneeling before his Maker after years of weary searching, listening to the Voice say: "Verily, I say, unto thee, inasmuch as thou hast done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, thou hast done it unto me." Artaban answers, "At last I have found Thee, O my King! The light—thy countenance—!"

Senior Play—"The Patsy"

"The Patsy," written by Mary Conners, is classed as the most popular high school play in the United States. In the minds of the Class of '32, it is the best senior play ever produced by a cast of Roosevelt students under the direction of Mr. Hyde. Full houses greeted the players on three successive nights.

Patricia Harrington, sparkling, gay, witty, and naive was played by Ethel Scofield. She crept into the heart of everyone, and offset the warped love of the mother and sister, by her splendid acting.

Ray Newsom (Pop Harrington) as Patsy's father and champion, gave to us what is familiarly known as a star performance. The famous worm turned and the hen-pecked husband turned into a real man. Ray's interpretation of the part made us all want to be his friends.

The self-pitying wife, played exceptionally well by Ethel Hamilton, explained why "married men leave home." Grace Harrington's part, capably portrayed by Lois Lindley, was a real picture of "like mother, like daughter." The parts of Grace and Mrs. Harrington were distinctly not parts to make one love them, and the audience gasped at their catty remarks and outbursts of temper.

When Tony Anderson (Marvin Murphey) appeared on the stage, many a feminine heart went "pit-a-pat," for Marvin did make a handsome and lovable hero! Billy Caldwell, Grace's fiance, played by Bill Hall, was admired by all—especially the girls.

If it hadn't been for the minor parts, some striking humor would not have been evident. Mr. O'Flaherty (Vernon Hope) was one of the factors that helped Patsy to win Tony. In the same way, Sadie Buchanan (Marjorie Howard) and Mary (Gertrude Cohan) helped Grace to realize that it was Billy Caldwell she wanted and not Tony. Humor was added by the appearance of Trip Busty (Bill Otto) as the taxi driver.

Oh, that we all might have been in this cast, still:

"All the world's a stage, but most of us are only stage hands."

—and "There's no use crying over spilt milk because there's enough water in it already!"

Washington Pageant

The part Roosevelt High School played in the city-wide celebration commemorating the two-hundredth birthday of George Washington, consisted of two main episodes in the Washington Pageant, presented at Fresno High School on February 22nd, and several musical numbers between the various episodes. The orchestra which furnished the music for the entire performance was also from Roosevelt.

The first episode in which the Roosevelt students participated was the plantation scene in which we saw crooning mummies, mischievous pickaninnies, and lazy darky men. We caught a glimpse of the darky quarters at sundown when the lazy droning of the bees had been replaced by the low swinging melodies of a guitar and a violin.

The other scene depicts the home life of George Washington with Martha and her two children at Mt. Vernon, gay and laughing guests arriving to wish George Washington a happy birthday. The curtain closed with the measured steps of the stately minuet.

May Music Festival

For many years it was a custom in Fresno County to hold Music Contests between the various high schools, in which all the different musical groups competed in a selected program.

As time went on, a certain amount of dissatisfaction and loss of interest led to a change. In 1930, Fresno City secondary schools united in a Festival of Music at the Civic Auditorium. This was so much more enjoyable than the contest that in 1931, Fresno County also abandoned the contest, and held a May Festival on two successive Sunday afternoons at Roeding Park, with a tremendous crowd in attendance. One striking feature of these concerts was the fact that the groups which performed together had never had a general rehearsal, but sang or played each number with a different director, who had never seen most of the group before. The results were so satisfactory that the May Festival was repeated in 1932, with every prospect of it becoming an annual affair.

"The Roosevelt News" is published bi-weekly by the Journalism Class. The staff includes: News Editor, Advertising Manager, Editorial Manager, Circulation Manager, Sports Editor, and a goodly list of reporters. With the splendid instruction of their able sponsor, Miss Eleanor Evinger, the class succeeds in "nosing out" the smallest morsel of news round and about Roosevelt. "Go-getting for ads" is perhaps the most difficult accomplishment a journalist must achieve, but when once the needed number of inches are procured, the class visibly sighs with relief.

There's no sleeping on the staff. Every minute one's eyes and ears must be alert for news, and woe be to the person who fails to turn in a news story to his editor! And oh! the feverish haste with which everyone works just before the paper is published! Editors battle with the length of stories while the paper is being made up, and the last minute news that jumps up unexpectedly, brings grey hair and wrinkles to the Staff.

The "Roosevelt News" plays an important part in Roosevelt school life. Through its editorials, school problems are brought to the attention in such a way as to be most interesting and valuable to the students.

The features and columns are the pride of "Roosevelt News." Not only do they prove to be entertaining reading, but they also tell just what is going on in the school.

The athletic news of the "Roosevelt News" is invaluable to the Roosevelt Sports fan, as stories of all games are published in detail.

Debating Team

For the first time in Roosevelt's history a debate squad was trained. There were nine in the final varsity squad. The series of four dual debates in the county league were with Coalinga, Madera, Reedley and Lemoore. The question for debate was "Resolved, That State Medicine Should Be Established." The affirmative was upheld by Agnes Tatarian and Mildred McLaughlin, Ruth Batt, Ethel Scofield, and Wilma Gordon. Grace Roberts, Lucile Fleming, Stuart McKelvey and John Silva composed the negative team. Miss Evinger coached the speakers.

The second squad won both dual debates from Fresno High. The teams, both negative and affirmative, were coached by Miss Struthers on the question "Resolved, The Several States Should Adopt Unemployment Insurance." The victorious affirmative team was Gene Benham and Jim Shipe. The negative team that defeated Fresno High was Lowell Firstenberger and Marshall Fiese. The same team debated Bakersfield on the same question, with Oakley Hunter replacing Gene Benham.

Awards

Grace Roberts, Agnes Tatarian, John Silva, Ruth Batt, Mildred McLaughlin, and Lucile Fleming won debaters' pins, and an additional pearl was given Agnes Tatarian and Grace Roberts. Stuart McKelvey received two pearls for his pin that he won in 1931.

Oratory

The Oratorical Contest which was held March 28, 1932, in our auditorium was a preliminary to the great international contest. Those who spoke were Oakley Hunter, Marshall Fiese, Dorothy Bibler, Leslie Joynes, Ethel Naman, Jim Shipe, Ethel Scofield, and Phyllis Longtin. Oakley Hunter took first place and Marshall Fiese second, winning prizes of ten and five dollars respectively. A contest among the representatives of the city schools took place at Fresno High School on April fifteenth.

Ethel Naman was given first place and Dorothy Bibler second place in a contest to decide who should give a Washington Memorial speech during Public Schools Week.

Student Conference

Am I an "Ideal Boy or Girl?" This was one of the questions seriously and earnestly discussed during the Student Conference, held at Roosevelt, Saturday, April 2, 1932.

The day was planned by a committee of three: Jeanada Hamilton, John Militano, and Claire Garrett, under the supervision of Mr. Otto, Miss Marsh, and the faculty.

Our visitors were greeted by a large reception committee who assisted them in registering. Showing them around the building occupied the few minutes that remained before the Devotional.

The theme of the Conference, "Know Thyself," was explained through the program of the Devotional.

Following the Devotional, the Conference adjourned to various rooms about the building for group discussion on such topics as: Choosing a Life Companion; The Ideal Boy or Girl; Race Prejudice and Moral Standards of the Twentieth Century Youth.

The Assembly Hall was "presto-changed" into a delightful lunch room by the Girls' League, who also served beverages to our guests. A short entertainment was featured by our own students.

Our guests had a real treat in seeing our Senior play, "The Patsy." The performance was one of the best ever featured at Roosevelt during its play history.

At 4:30 the Conference gathered in the Assembly Hall to listen to the reports of the various committees. A brief summary of all the discussions was given by a chosen chairman.

The banquet, planned to the last minute, followed the Committee reports. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Papazian, of the Armenian Congregational Church. His address followed a program of vocal, orchestra, and dancing numbers.

The banquet concluded the successful day, leaving our guests looking forward with great joy to our next Student Conference.

Business Activities

One of the most important of student activities is the Accounting Department. They handle all Student funds under the direction of Mr. Franklin. Two sources of income are the Cafeteria and the School Store.

This year the cafeteria was managed by Bob Segress. Ida Woodbury, Beulah Hawkins and Grace Roberts served as cashiers. Mrs. Willingham was "lady chef" and Mrs. Bingham sponsor. Edith Lander kept books.

"Eats" were furnished for turkey dinners, Senior Luncheons, P. T. A. dinners, a dinner for the Valley Educators, the Luncheon for the California Scholarship Society of the Valley, the Kiwanis Club dinner, the Student Conference Luncheon, and the Basketball Barbecue.

The Co-op opened with Margary Toler as manager and Viola Toler and Pauline Giguere as assistants. Miss Bartlett, sponsor, turned five hundred dollars over to the Student Body. Pauline Giguere, Dorothy Winters, and Howard Roth are now in charge.

HEAD COACH EDWARDS

Varsity Football

Prospects for a successful season in football this year seemed brighter than it had ever seemed in previous seasons. Yet we finished in only third place, having been defeated by both Fresno High and Fresno Tech.

Opening the season, the Rough Riders were held to a 7 to 7 tie by the Hanford High School team in a practice game. The Rough Riders were apparently off form in this encounter, as it was the first of the season.

Taking Taft next in stride, the Rough Riders bowed to the Valley champions of the year before, after a bitter fight, by a score of 13 to 0.

Fresno State's Frosh team was our first victim. The game was won after a hard struggle by a 7 to 0 score. This was the first victory of our "gallopin'" Rough Riders and it was, likewise, the Frosh's first defeat.

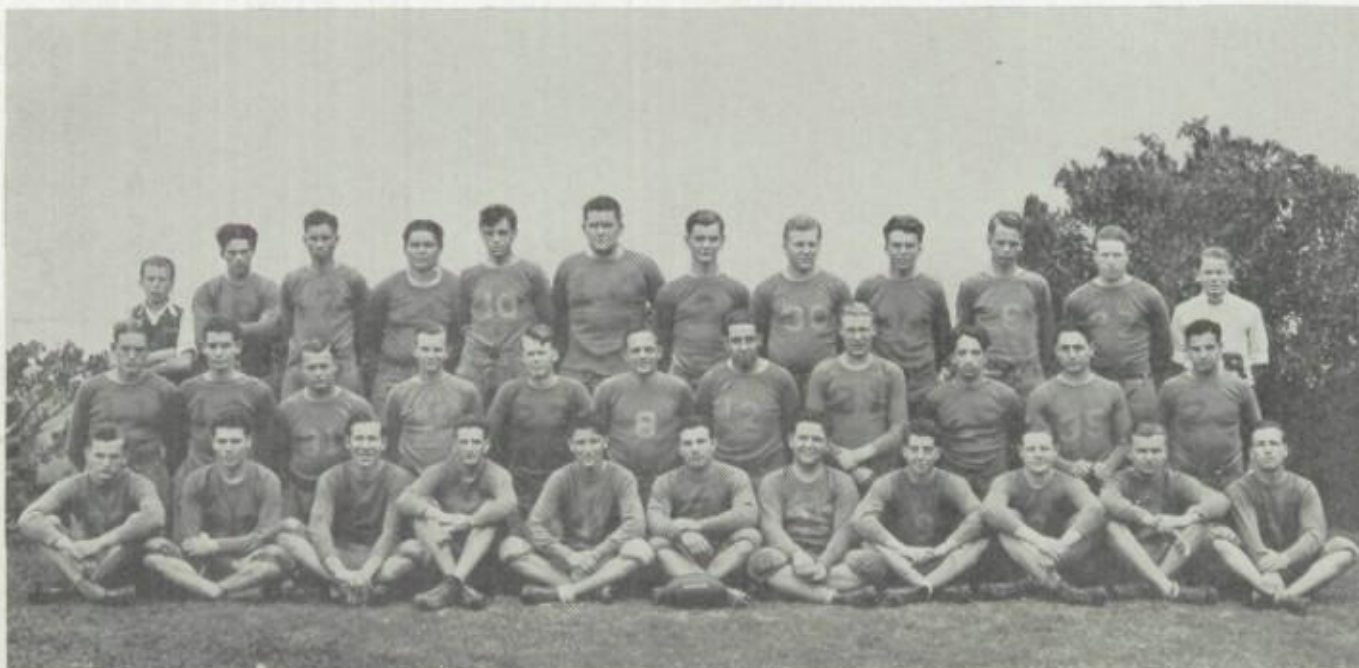

The stage was all set for the "big game" of the season, the one in which Fresno High Warriors were our opponents. Roosevelt was favored by two touchdowns, but sad to relate, "the dope" was just reversed. Fresno High won by a 14 to 0 score, which gave her the chance to cop the valley bunting this year.

After this disaster, the Rough Riders "got down" to serious business and defeated Reedley, Selma, and Fresno Tech in the order named.

These wins put the Rough Riders in a tie for second place with Edison Tech, but the Tigers won out in the race for that position by defeating the Rough Riders in a thrilling game by an 8 to 7 score.

Head Coach Edwards has charge of the team, ably assisted by Russ White and Leo Weiland.

Next year the varsity will be greatly handicapped by the loss of several of this year's regulars, but since several likely lightweight stars are going to "graduate" to the heavyweights, we may rightfully point to a fairly successful season.

Lightweight Football

Opening the league season with a bang, the Rough Riderettes, coached by John "Austin" Morehouse, trounced the Lemoore team by a 14 to 0 score at Lemoore. Quite an impressive start!

Reedley was the next team to face the Rough Riderettes. Heralded as an undefeated team, the Pirates came to Fresno, but were soundly trounced by the Roosevelt "babes" by a 40 to 0 score. Some of our boys were just having a little "fall" training for track that day! This is especially true of Paul Allison, who starred by making two long runs for touchdowns after catching punts.

The next game on "tap" for the Rough Riderettes was the "little big game" of the year with Fresno High School, our bitter-sweet rivals, whom we beat, 7 to 0. A long pass by "Big Toes" Leguina to Art Shirley resulted in the score. Roosevelt fans have seldom seen such a beautiful pass.

Just as everything seemed to point toward a championship, the boys traveled down to Selma, cocky and confident, and were "bowled" over by a 20 to 0 score. The less said about this game, the better!

In the next game the Rough Riderettes barely nosed out Kingsburg, 7 to 0. Leguina, Roosevelt quarter, after having passed several times, finally succeeded in making a completed pass to Avedesian which resulted in a touchdown.

Edison Tech was no match for the Rough Riderettes in the next game. Roosevelt wound up with a 27 to 0 score. It was just another "track meet!"

In their last game of the season, the Rough Riderettes found themselves face to face with the Wolfcubs of Fresno Tech. Tech wasn't rated as a very strong team, but they put up the fight of their lives in this game, losing only by the slim margin of one touchdown, 7 to 0.

In their second practice game of the season, the Rough Riderettes held the strong Taft team, who were runners-up for the valley crown, to a 0 to 0 tie.

The season was the most successful since lightweight football was organized.

COACH WIELAND

Varsity Basketball

Roosevelt completed the most successful basketball season in the history of the school this year although they did not win the championship of the league.

Although they would have liked to win the "bunting," they have the satisfaction of saying that they were as good as any team in the league. This is proved by the fact that they beat every team in their division, including Fresno High, who came out as valley champions at the end of the season by defeating Porterville 25 to 17.

Starting the season off the Rough Riders did not get "going" in any of their practice games, losing nearly all of them. However, in the first league game of the season they bowled over Fresno Tech by a 17 to 13 score. "Spud" Murphey, flashy Rough Rider forward, dazzled the Wolfpack by his uncanny shooting in this game and rung up ten points to his credit.

Entering the second game, the Rough Riders were favored to beat the Edison Tech team, but were nosed out by a 22 to 19 score.

Fresno High completely "outfoxed" our team in the next game by rendering the Rough Riders a 31 to 12 whipping. In their next game, though, the Rough Riders woke up and beat Edison Tech, 25 to 21.

The next game was with the Fresno Tech Wolves, which we lost by a 27 to 16 score. Sweet revenge for the Wolves!

In the final game of the season, we had our "big moment" and beat Fresno High in an extra period of play by a 27 to 25 score. Bill Hall distinguished himself in this game by scoring all of our points which we made in the extra period of play. The most important factor of the game, however, is the fact that this was the first basketball game that our team ever won over Fresno High.

Much credit should be given to Leo Weiland, our coach, as it was he who built up the team's spirit to great heights, thereby making our team the most feared of any in the league.

MIDDLEWEIGHT BASKETBALL

Although our season's record was not very impressive, our B Class basketball team members, coached by Johnny Morehouse, nevertheless, gained lots of experience and learned many things they never knew before about basketball.

The only league game they won during the season was the second Fresno Tech game which they won by a lop-sided score of 37 to 19.

In the last game of the season they were barely nosed out by Fresno High, champions of the league, by a score of 16 to 14. In other games, the smaller Rough Riders didn't fare as well, but their opponents were constantly aware of the fact that they were in for a battle.

Off on a bad season that apparently wasn't even going to net a win, the "peanuts" pulled the "cat out of the bag" and surprised everybody by defeating the Fresno High Papooses in a thrilling game by a 13 to 12 score. You couldn't ask for a better climax.

Head Coach Logan Edwards' boys did well, despite the fact that they were handicapped by the lack of a gym, as all of the games that they lost were won by the other team by only a slim margin.

COACH MOREHOUSE

Track

The Varsity track squad at Roosevelt is completing the most successful season in the history of the school. Although the season is not yet over, the Rough Riders, coached by diminutive Johnny Morehouse, have won both the city and county titles. In the city meet the Rough Riders galloped off with 86 points to their credit while their nearest competitors, Fresno High, amassed but 43. Edison Tech finished third with 21 points, while the other city school, Fresno Tech, finished fourth.

In the county meet the Rough Riders made a total of 43 points, 33 of which were made by second, third, and fourth places. Only two firsts were chalked up by Dave Morehouses's men—Captain Frank Beller's win in the low hurdles, and Willard Suttin's six-foot leap in the high jump.

In the Valley meet the Rough Riders placed fourth, a quarter of a point behind Bakersfield. The meet was won by Hanford with a total of 31 points. Selma was second with 24; Bakersfield third with 22 $\frac{1}{4}$; and Roosevelt fourth with 22. Hanford's points came mainly from second and third place men. Although not a man of theirs placed first, they made eleven points in the sprints alone. Their crack relay team won in the record-breaking time of 1:31.7 seconds, to mark up their only first place.

Roosevelt made eight points in the hurdles through the efforts of Captain Beller and Clemens. Silva placed in the 440 yard-run which was won by Morey of Visalia in the fast time of 50.4 seconds. Willard Suttin placed third in the high jump and fourth in the broad jump, while Louie Boyd won the only first place for Roosevelt in the football throw by tossing it 203 feet, 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches. The Roosevelt relay team placed third, thereby finishing the scoring for a day.

All in all, the team has had a very successful year. John David Morehouse, the coach, is largely responsible for the wonderful showing of the team.

In Classes B and C, Roosevelt was not so fortunate as in the Varsity Class. They can, however, point to a fairly successful year as they both placed second in the city meet. In Class B the Rough Riders had one consistent man in the person of Vernon Dwelle. He won first place in the discus in the city meet and placed second in the county, finishing behind Edgar Dunn of Kingsburg, who broke the county record in the event. The only team that beat them in the city meet was Fresno High, one of the strongest in the county. Edison Tech's great lightweight team, county champions this year, beat out the C class team for the city meet championship. However, a few Roosevelt boys were outstanding in the meet. They were Weiser, Bernhauer, and Owens. Weiser broke the city meet high jump record by five inches and also won the county high jump event. Bernhauer placed behind him in the city and placed fourth in the county. Owens won the discus in the city and placed second in the county in the football throw. Coach John David Morehouse coached both the B and C class teams as well as the Varsity and much of the credit is due to him.

HEAD COACH EDWARDS

Varsity Baseball

Roosevelt's Varsity baseball team captured Division One title this year by defeating the Fresno High team by a 6 to 4 score in ten innings in the play-off game. This game was necessary due to the tie that existed between the two teams at the end of the regular season.

Starting the season with a bang, Coach Edward's men trounced the Washington Union team by a 13 to 3 score at Easton. Paul Allison starred in this game with his effective hurling.

In their next game the Rough Riders ploughed through the Fresno Tech team and won by a 7 to 3 score. This was a hotly contested game but, finally, the Rough Rider strength began to show and, little by little, they wore their opponents out.

Fresno High's belated rallies in the eighth and ninth innings nearly overcame the Rough Riders, who won the game, 11 to 8. Until the seventh inning Paul Allison was not even nicked for a hit, but in the eighth and ninth innings he was not so fortunate.

Fresno Tech surprised everybody in the next game by nosing out the Rough Riders, 4 to 3. Inability to hit in the pinches cost Roosevelt this defeat.

The Rough Riders were defeated in their next game, losing 9 to 8 to Fresno High, throwing the league into a three-way tie.

Going into their next game, the Rough Riders faced elimination if they lost. Realizing this, Paul Allison hurled a perfect no-hit, no-run game. Roosevelt needless to say, won 7 to 0. This game finished the league season, but the tie that existed made necessary the playoff game, with Fresno High.

Roosevelt defeated Reedley 13-0 in the semi-final county play-off for the championship, but dropped a close game to Tranquillity, losing the county title.

Much credit is due Coach Logan Edwards for his wonderful team this year, as it was he that guided the team so successfully.

Baseball

Roosevelt started on a new project this year by having two baseball teams in the county league race. The second team played in the fifth division of the league and, considered as a new organization, finished fairly well.

Starting the season off right, the Rough Riders trounced Fresno High 9 to 6, behind Werl Owen's effective hurling. What a start!

Caruthers beat out the Roosevelt team in the next start in a thrilling game by a 6 to 5 score in ten innings. Caruther fans have seldom seen such a game.

Edison Tech, who walked off with the title, won the next game by an 11 to 2 score. Too much power in the bats of the Tigers caused this defeat.

Coalinga, 5; Roosevelt, 2—that is how the score board read after the next league game. Although the Rough Riders lost the game, they put up a valiant fight, which the Coalingans will long remember.

Winding up their season, the Rough Riders gave the story a happy ending and won from Fresno Tech's team 9 to 3. Marion Alleruzo showed his ware that day and the Fresno Tech batsmen were not able to see much more than just that! Although the team did not do so well from a winning standpoint, they gained much valuable experience.

Russell White coached the team until his transfer to Longfellow, and then Coach Edwards took up the reins.

The plan of two teams from the school, entered in the county league, should arouse more enthusiasm among the younger boys. Many of the present members should be valuable additions to the Varsity next fall.

Tennis

One of the unusual features of Roosevelt High School is a mixed tennis team coached by one of our new teachers, Mr. Leo Weiland, who is fresh from Fresno State College.

Dean Patterson, boys' singles player on the team, and our star player, proved his worth by carrying away the silver trophy offered by the Fresno Bee at the fall tournament in 1931. Dean is a "whiz" and we're certainly expecting big things from him. Lois Lindley, better known as "Inset," plays girls' singles. The mixed double team consists of two modest, quiet and reserved persons—Bill Hall and Dorothy Eldred! Shirley Guhm and Janet Allyn play girls' doubles. Janet is also trophy winner and has a head start on the class, as her loving cup was won in elementary school. Benjy Americanian and James Dale uphold the boys' doubles team. We expect them to win honors as well as women's hearts. Wouldn't the twins, Jimmie and Allen, make a "cute" team?

Not all of our talent is used in the team, so class and interscholastic practice tournaments are held to give everyone a chance to play as well as learn the game. A team must have a manager and the best we could do was Jeanada Hamilton, with Woodrow Roberts as assistant! Sarcasm!

Tennis is the game of games for everyone—fat or thin, young or old. It makes no difference what kind of a shape you're in, you can still play tennis. Oh, say, by the way, have you seen our father of coaches—Logan Edwards and his girlish figure together with Gertrude "Trudy" Cohan tripping merrily around the court in an exciting game of ping pong? It's a sight worth seeing—in fact, you shouldn't miss it.

Tennis has come to the front this year as never before in the history of Roosevelt.

Squad Leaders

To be a Squad Leader is quite the thing, not only for the fun and honor, but also the points toward our block "R". The girls hold this position by election, from girls of all grades. Squad Leaders assume a great responsibility and must be girls of great dependability. Their duty is to take the attendance, report the scores of the intramural games, and help in the upkeep of the athletic responsibility. Without them the Physical Education classes would be difficult to manage.

The girls, not competing with other schools and still wanting to earn a much prized "R", worked out a point system in order to make this a possibility. Points are earned by being team captains, squad leaders, attendance monitors, or towel checkers; also by observing health rules, showing good sportsmanship, and by playing on teams of the major sports in the intramural program. Each girl must have at least 700 points before she can earn her award.

Checking points and keeping records of all activities requires careful and systematic work on the part of the Physical Education instructors and girls. A record card is kept for each girl, and points are recorded after completion of each major sport.

MRS. TURNER

Girls' Basketball

Basketball, among the girls, is one of the most important games during their high school career. It is a game where ability comes before strength; this gives the small girl as much of a chance to compete as the larger.

The girls' basketball teams are not decided upon as the boys' teams are. The boys are chosen according to their ability in the game, their weight and eligibility. The girls elect a dependable person for their captain and then the captains choose their own teams. The physical education instructor, Mrs. Turner, then coaches the teams carefully and patiently until she feels they are ready to compete with one another. The champion team of each period plays to decide the winner of the school.

Christine Clark's seventh period basketball team, the Black Pirates, won the championship for this year against Teddy Platsis's team, The Fighting Irish. This game for championship was an exciting and fast battle on both sides.

The forwards for the Black Pirates were: Dorothy Bibler and Grace Roberts; the guards, Francina Pedlebrodie and Helen Lindquist; Elizabeth Thompson played running center, Christine Clark, jumping center. The subs were, Chestine Clarke, Frances Dawson, and Barbara Morrison.

Pedelaborde, Lindquist, Roberts, Clark, Dawson, Thompson, Morrison.

Hockey

This has been the first year of intramural Hockey competition in the history of Roosevelt. Much enthusiasm and spirit was shown by the teams. Fine team work and good technique was shown throughout the games.

It was hard to decide during the season which team would win the school championship, as several tie games were played and all the game scores were very close.

There were eight teams entered; one hundred five girls took part in the twenty-two games which were played. The captains were: Lorena Richardson, Dorothy Winters, Kathryn Shorb, Harriet Joseph, Jean Leydon, Merle Cunningham, Jean Glasscock and Noveda Lowden.

The final game was played on April 7, 1932, between Kathryn Shorb's and Lorena Richardson's teams. The latter team won by a score of 1 to 0.

There were many outstanding players on the losing teams such as: Helen Potts, Betty Caldwell, Kathryn Shorb, Dorothy B. Hall, Ruth Shields, Eileen Sullivan and numerous others.

The hockey season has been a thrilling new sport for the girls. Very few casualties were listed with the exception of a few bruises and skinned knees.

The hockey enthusiasts are already eagerly looking forward to next year's competition.

A word to the wise is sufficient. We editors would like to suggest that you wear smoked glasses.

Roland F. (boasting to his girl): I was out with a nurse last night.

Doris S.: Cheer up! Maybe next time your mama will let you go out without one.

Ramon Byrne (driving): I always keep both hands on the steering wheel.

Ellen Jean C. (sweetly?): Well, I'm here in case you need a handkerchief.

Maid: There's a lady outside with a man, mum.

Chestine C.: Quick! Tell her I'll take him.

Mrs. Prior (to "Tink"): "Tink," go wash your face and neck.

"Tink": Neck who?

Marvin M.: Darling, you are everything to me.

Helen P.: Um—m—m, hold everything.

Marjorie H.: If you were to stand with one foot on two dimes, what chain of stores would you represent?

Ken Daniels: I'll bite, what?

Marjorie H.: Woolworth's, nothing over twenty cents.

Mr. Miller: My wife, Clara, can be an angel when she wants to be.

Mr. Morrison: So can mine—any time now.

Dr. Jekyll: I know a guy who was killed by getting out of the wrong side of the bed.

Mr. Hyde: Yeah? Jumping Jehosaphat! How's that?

Dr. Jekyll: He got out the wrong side of the lower berth.

Dean P.: Tell me, what does Jean-ada say at the end of her prayers?

Lucile F.: Ah, men!

Doctor: Pat, your wife's just presented you with quadruplets.

Pat: Four crying out loud!

Miss Marsh: Now, little boy, don't you know what kind of children go to heaven?

Louie Boyd: Sure, dead ones.

Florence Litts: Married women wear wedding rings so why don't married men wear something to distinguish them from single ones?

Second old maid: They do. A worried look.

Some local business men were considering Mr. Young for membership in the Lion's Club. One man remarked, "We will have another member whose stock in trade is brains. Another replied, "This one certainly carries a peculiar looking sample case."

Stranger: "Tell me, have any big men been born in this state?"

Native: "No, only babies."

Dan Aller: Hurry up, dear, or we'll be late for the theatre.

Dorothy E.: I'm just trying my reducing machine. I'll be ready in two hundred shakes.

Johnny Otto: Pop, why doesn't hair grow on your head?

Wm. A.: Grass doesn't grow on a busy street, son.

J. O.: Oh, I see. It can't get through the concrete.

Mrs. Morrison: "Hugo, do you know any more stories like the one you just told?"

Hugo K.: "Yes, Mrs. Morrison."

Mrs. M.: "You'd better stay after school, then."
